Archie San Romani attended KSTC during the 1933-34 school year, but was ineligible to compete because of the transfer rule. He was eligible when the 1935 season opened, and the addition of San Romani gave the Hornets a very bright outlook. Five school record holders were on the team: Crooms in the 100 and 220, Haring in both hurdles, Rhoads, recovered from his foot injury, in the 880, Bridges in the mile, and Perry Kirkpatrick in the broad jump.

KSTC resumed participation in the KCAC indoor meet in 1935 after a six-year absence. Haring won the 50-yard high hurdles and finished 2nd in the 50-yard lows, while freshman Ken DeMott took 4th in the highs. San Romani ran the mile, finishing 3rd. The Hornets returned to the Butler Indoor Relays to conclude the indoor season and took 1st in the college division, 3rd overall behind Michigan and Ohio State. The two-mile relay team of Tyree Mack, Wendall Frame, Rhoads, and Bridges set a meet record of 8:02 in winning the event. The mile relay team also won, setting a meet record of 3:27.2. Eustace Shannon, Rhoads, Bridges, and Crooms ran on this team. The distance medley team of Clinton Bamtz, Frame, Holder, and San Romani finished 2nd when San Romani moved them up from 6th place on the anchor carry. Forty minutes later San Romani came back to take 3rd in the open mile. Haring was ill with the measles and did not compete, costing the Hornets valuable points in the hurdles.

KSTC opened the outdoor season with impressive victories over Wichita and Kansas State, the third straight over the Aggies who had recently won the Big 6 Indoor Championship. The Hornets next journeyed to the Kansas Relays, where they met with remarkable success. Crooms repeated his 1934 victory in the 100-yard dash, defeating a strong field, including Jim Owens of the University of Iowa. Owens ran anchor on the teams that held world records in the 440 and 880 relays. San Romani won the open 1500-meter in 3:57.2, then anchored the Hornets' distance medley to victory in the college division. Holder, Mack, and Bridges joined San Romani on this team. The Hornets' fourth victory was in the 880 relay, the team of Shannon, Austin, Holder and Crooms winning with the time of 1:29. Welch entered a team in the university class 480-yard shuttle hurdles, and the Hornet hurdlers won the event. Unfortunately, they were not eligible to receive an award because Ken DeMott and Dick Dodd were freshmen and ineligible to compete in university class events. Jerome Carroll and Lee Haring were the other members of the team. Haring was unable to compete in the open high hurdles, an event he had placed 2nd in the previous two years, because he had used up his three years of NCAA eligibility. The two-mile relay team of Mack, Frame, Bridges and Rhoads was beaten by inches at the tape when the Pittsburg anchorman made up 15 yards on Rhoads, costing the Hornets a sixth Relays victory. Shannon, Rhoads, Austin and Frame ran on the mile team that placed 4th, while Shannon earned the last points for the Hornets with a 2nd in the broad jump. Shannon was in 1st and seemed assured of winning, when Pitts of Kansas leaped past him by one-fourth of an inch on his last jump.

Finishing Behind Jesse Owens' Record Performances

Duward Crooms competed against the legendary Jesse Owens in the 100-yard dash at the Drake Relays. Crooms finished a very respectable 5th in the 100 while Owens tied the world record at 9.5 seconds. Eustace Shannon competed against Owens in the broad jump, leaping 24-6 $\frac{1}{4}$ to set a new school record; however, he could only finish 4th behind the American record of Owens in 26-1 $\frac{3}{4}$.

Seven Hornets attended the Drake Relays the following week and performed well, although they did not match their success at KU. The mile relay team of Mack, Holder, Rhoads, and Crooms won the event and set a school record of 3:20.0, while the two-mile team of Mack, Rhoads, Bridges, and San Romani was defeated by Pitt by a scant yard for the second time in a week. The Hornets finished 2nd to Pitt in the sprint medley as well, with the team of Mack, Holder, Crooms and Bridges. Shannon turned in a spectacular performance in the broad jump, leaping 24-6 $\frac{1}{4}$ to break his school record by seven inches. However, this jump was good for only 4th in a very strong field, including Jesse Owens of Ohio State, who set a new American record of 26-1 ³/₄. Crooms also competed against Owens in the 100-yard dash and finished 5th while Owens tied the world record of 9.5 seconds.

The biggest victory of the season came two weeks later in the annual Pittsburg dual. KSTC defeated Pitt 69 ¹/₃ to 61 ²/₃, Pitt's first dual loss in 11 years, and broke a string of 30 consecutive dual victories by the Gorillas. The Hornets outscored Pitt by 23 points on the track, and took 1st in the final three events to win the meet.

The success against the Gorillas was short lived, however, as the Weedesmen came back to nip the Hornets by 2 ¹/₂ points to win the CIC title. Winners for the Hornets included San Romani in the mile and two-mile, Haring in both hurdles, Leo Colton in the shot put, and Crooms in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Crooms also took 2nd in the long jump. KSTC scored heavily in all the running events, but weakness in the field cost the Hornets the title.

For a while, the names of Yellowjacket and Hornet were used interchangeably. The evolution of the school mascot went from a stereotypical hornet to "Corky" the Hornet, who first appeared in 1934 by student Paul Edwards.

One of the most interesting and amusing incidents in the history of the program occurred on this trip. This account from the KSTC Bulletin describes the incident:

On the recent trip to Pittsburg for the conference meet, Lee Haring, Norman Rhoads, Harold Cook, and Eustace Shannon were incarcerated in the city calaboose Friday evening and spent two hours cooling their heels while city officials looked up the past records, present occupations, and future prospects of this quartet of desperadoes.

The difficulty started when Coach Fran Welch's proteges, after qualifying a good number for the meet Saturday, decided to take a little airing before retiring Friday evening. Without going into the details, suffice it to say that Haring, Rhoads, Cook, and Shannon created quite a disturbance, according to the chief of police, on one of Pittsburg's main thoroughfares. The chief, with one of his trusty retainers, drove up in the municipal and asked the four Hornets to accompany them to the lock-up.

Haring, feeling especially courageous, argued the point.

"Let me see your badge," said the Hornet timber topper.

"Climb in the wagon," growled the upholder of law and order, flashing a shiny gold badge. The offenders crawled. They rode to the station, where they were promptly escorted to the one and only cell and locked in.

While the chief of police communicated with the mayor, Dr. Garfield Weede, track coach at Pittsburg, and other people of importance, the Hornets organized a quartet and worked up a special version of If I Had the Wings of an Angel, and I'm in the Jail House Now, with special effects by Cook and Shannon. The rest of the time was spent reading the literary contributions left on the walls of the cell by former occupants.

The news of the arrest finally reached the ears of Kenneth DeMott, another hurdler, who proceeded to carry the information to Coach Fran Welch.

"How are the beds", the Hornet mentor calmly asked the troubled freshman.

"All right, I guess," he replied.

"Then we'll let them stay," said Welch. "They'll get a good nights rest."

"But Fran," protested Woody Teichgraeber, discus thrower, "The ventilation is terrible. It's stuffy down there."

After due consideration, it was finally decided that if the four lads would promise to behave themselves for the remainder of the trip, they would be allowed to leave the jail. Haring, still showing a disposition to remonstrate with the chief of police, was advised by the mayor that everything he said would be held against him, and he was finally led away, still muttering protests.

"The jail was terrible," said Harold Cook, in speaking of the incident. "I'm going to start a society for the improvement of municipal lock-ups. Haring is vice-president, Rhoads secretary, and Shannon is sargeant-at-arms."

There will be no treasurer, for obvious reasons. (KSTC Bulletin, Vol. 34, No. 62, p. 1)

The "disturbance" which led to the arrest of the four Hornets was a game of penny pitching, not a major crime by today's standards.

Archie San Romani: National Champion

Archie San Romani won the National Collegiate mile in 1935 and the 1500-meter run in 1936. He anchored the Hornet's distance medley relay team to a new world record in 1936.

At the Missouri Valley AAU meet the weekend after conference, Haring and San Romani were winners for the Hornets. Haring won both hurdle events, setting a meet record of 14.8 seconds in the 110-meter highs. Sam Romani won the 1500-meter in the record time of 4:00.7. Rhoads finished 2nd in the 400-meter, while 3rds were earned by Bridges in the 800-meter, Shannon in the triple jump, Cecil Dryer in the shot put, and the mile relay team of Mack, Shannon, Bridges, and Rhoads. All these men qualified for the National AAU meet with their performances.

The next meet on the schedule however, was the NCAA meet in Berkeley, California, where San Romani, Shannon, Crooms, Rhoads and Haring competed for the Hornets. San Romani turned in a superb performance in winning the mile with the time of 4:19.1, upsetting the favorites with a thrilling sprint finish to win by a chest. No other Hornet was able to place.

On the basis of Sam Romani's effort, KSTC trackmen were invited to stay in California and run in the Far West AAU meet the following week. Haring won the high hurdles and took 3rd in the low hurdles, defeating many of the men who had beaten him at the NCAAs. San Romani finished 2nd in the mile behind Norman Bright of the Olympic Club.

San Romani and Haring were the only Hornets Welch entered in the National AAU meet in Lincoln, Nebraska. The competition in this meet was the best in the country, as any man with amateur status was eligible to enter. San Romani finished 3rd in the 1500-meter behind two of the best milers in the world, Glenn Cunningham, the world record holder, and Gene Wenzke. Haring did not qualify for the finals, and thus ended his career as one of KSTC's great track and field performers. Haring was listed on the 1935 National Honor Roll for the third consecutive year.

In 1936, Archie San Romani, by then recognized as one of the top milers in the United States, was invited to compete in both the Millrose Games held at Madison Square Garden and the Boston Athletic Association Games. These were two of the four big eastern indoor meets to which only the top athletes in the country were invited. San Romani placed 4th behind Wenzke, Cunningham, and Joe Mangan at both meets.

Welch Stadium

In the fall of 1935, construction began on a new stadium north of Lake Wooster. The project was a part of the government's work program and meant jobs for the men of the city and for students. The stadium was completed in 1937, and the track was first used during the 1938 season. This facility is known today as Welch Stadium.

KSTC added a new event to the 1936 indoor schedule by attending the Ozark AAU Indoor Relays in St. Louis, Missouri. Ken DeMott proved an adequate replacement for Haring by winning the 55-yard high hurdles in both the collegiate and open divisions, while Dick Dodd placed 3rd in both divisions of the same event. San Romani finished 2nd to Mel Truitt of Indiana in an unusually slow mile. Cecil Dryer placed 2nd in the shot put to Don Elser of Notre Dame. Also placing 2nd were the Hornet mile and two-mile relay teams with foursomes of Al Locke, Loren Austin, Rhoads, and Crooms on the mile relay, and John Zimmerman, San Romani, Rhoads, and Bridges on the two-mile team.

At the annual Butler Relays, KSTC again won the college division and placed 3rd overall, behind the same two teams as in 1935. The team of Crooms, Bridges, Frame, and San Romani set a Relays record of 10:32 in winning the college distance medley, while the mile team of Crooms, Austin, Bridges, and Locke won, tying the meet record set by KSTC in 1935. Dryer and DeMott gained 2nds in the shot and high hurdles respectively. The two-mile team of Mack, Frame, Rhoads and Locke finished 3rd behind Pittsburg and Butler University. Fourths were earned by DeMott in the low hurdles and Crooms in the 60-yard dash.

The Hornet thinclads resumed participation in the Texas Relays when the outdoor season opened. However, only five KSTC men competed because of the discrimination rule against blacks competing in Texas. The 1936 season was one of only three years during the decade that KSTC participated at Texas, and this was due at least partially to the ban on black athletes. The five who did compete were very successful, as the distance medley team of Austin, Rhoads, Bridges, and San Romani won the university class event in the record time of 10:22.5, and Cecil Dryer placed 2nd in the open shot put.

When Crooms failed to qualify for the finals of the 100-yard dash at the Kansas Relays, an event he had won the two previous years, Welch decided to shoot the works in the distance medley relay. He scratched San Romani from the 1500-meter and Bridges and Rhoads from the two-mile relay. The latter relay team, with Eugene Foster, Zimmerman, Mack, and Frame running, finished 2nd to Pittsburg. Welch entered the team of Crooms, Rhoads, Bridges, and San Romani in the university class distance medley, and their performance was spectacular. In winning the event, they established a new Kansas Relays, American, and world record with the time of 10:12.7.

World Record Distance Medley Relay

The team of Duane Crooms, Norman Rhoads, Paul Bridges and Archie San Romani set a new world record in winning the Kansas Relays distance medley relay in 1936. The team ran 10:12.7 to win the university division. In a display of outstanding depth and quality of Hornet distance running, a second team of Locke, Mack, Zimmerman and Frame won the college division.

Crooms
Rhoads
Bridges
San Romani

The depth and quality of the Hornet distance runners was shown when Welch entered another foursome in the college distance medley, and the team of Locke, Mack, Zimmerman and Frame also won with the time of 10:40.3. KSTC gained two other 2nd places, from Dryer in the shot and the shuttle hurdle team of Jim Fraley, Werne Sumner, Dodd, and DeMott. The half-mile relay team of Harold Haywood, Austin, Locke, and Crooms took 3rd.

At the Drake Relays, the Hornet medley quartet was denied a shot at a triple crown. The three-year eligibility rule was enforced at Drake, keeping Crooms, Rhoads, and Bridges out of the university class. Welch entered Frame, Rhoads, Bridges, and San Romani in the two-mile relay, and this foursome won the event in a Drake record time of 7:52.0. KSTC also placed 3rd in the sprint medley relay and the mile relay. Available records do not list the runners on these teams, but Welch had previously announced that Austin, Crooms, Locke, and San Romani would run the sprint medley and Austin, Crooms, Locke, and Mack would run the mile.

KSTC defeated the Pittsburg Gorillas for the second straight year in the annual dual, winning by 17 points, and the Hornets were favored to finally take the CIC title away from Pitt. The Weedesmen pulled off the upset, though, winning 64-63 ½ for their ninth straight conference title. KSTC had a ½-point lead with the low hurdles and mile relay remaining when hard luck hit. Werne Sumner, the favorite to win the low hurdles, was leading when he tripped over the next to last hurdle and did not place. Pitt gained a 2nd place in the event and a lead the Hornet victory in the mile relay could not make up. Sam Romani and Crooms were the workhorses for KSTC. San Romani won the mile and two-mile and placed 2nd in the 880, while Crooms took 2nd in the 100, 220, broad jump, and ran on the Hornets' winning mile relay along with Locke, Rhoads and Bridges. Bridges took 1st in the 880 with the time of 1:59.5, and Harold Cook won the pole vault, jumping 11-10. Cecil Dryer earned the Hornets final victory, winning the shot put with the conference record throw of 48-5 ½.

Two weeks later, San Romani broke his own Missouri Valley record in the 1500-meter, winning the event at the MVAAU meet in 4:00.0. Bridges was also a winner, taking the 800-meter, while Dryer placed 2nd in the shot put. DeMott and Frame closed out the Hornet scoring, taking 3rds in the high hurdles and 5000-meter respectively.

San Romani was the only KSTC athlete to continue competition into the summer, and he did so quite successfully. He first entered the NCAA meet in Chicago to defend his mile title, and won the 1500-meter while setting a new NCAA record of 3:53.0. By winning the NCAA, he earned the right to compete in the final Olympic trials. However, Welch decided to enter San Romani in the Olympic sectional meet at Milwaukee and the National AAU at Princeton, New Jersey, and San Romani finished a close 2nd to Glenn Cunningham in the 1500-meter in both meets.

San Romani went to the U.S. Olympic Trials in New York still considered by most experts to be an outside shot for the Olympic team. To get on, he would have to break up the big three on the American mile scene: Glenn Cunningham, the world record holder in the mile, Gene Wenzke, the former world record holder in the indoor mile, and Bill Bonthron, the world record holder in the 1500-meter. San Romani not only broke them up, he almost won the event. Both he and Cunningham were timed at 3:49.9, but the former KU star was given the victory. San Romani became the first athlete to officially represent KSTC at the Olympic Games.

San Romani left for Berlin on July 15th of 1936, accompanied by Coach Welch. The students of KSTC and the townspeople of Emporia had worked together to raise $500 so Welch could accompany San Romani during the most important races of his life. San Romani went determined to win the race, but ended up 4th behind Jack Lovelock of New Zealand, Glenn Cunningham, and Luigi Beccali of Italy, the 1932 Olympic 1500-meter champion. Lovelock set a new Olympic and world record of 3:47.8, while San Romani's time of 3:50.0 was under the old Olympic record by 1.2 seconds. After the Games, San Romani stayed in Europe and participated in the AAU sponsored tour of the Scandinavian countries, a tour required of the U.S. Olympians by the AAU.

Two months after the Olympic Games, San Romani met Lovelock and Cunningham in a special mile race promoted by Princeton University. Run at halftime of the Princeton-Williams football game, the race was set up to give Lovelock one final shot at Cunningham's world record of 4:06.7 in the mile, as Lovelock would retire after the race. San Romani upset the favorites, though, winning in 4:09. In defeating Lovelock by eight yards, San Romani ran the fastest last quarter ever run at the end of a mile. This was the first in a series of major victories that would establish San Romani as the number one miler in the World for 1937.

San Romani's next victory came at the Sugar Bowl Game in "The Mile of the Century." Run at halftime of the Sugar Bowl Game in New Orleans, he defeated Cunningham by inches in the time of 4:14, which bettered the Southern record set by Cunningham in 1936. San Romani next moved indoors where, due to a lack of training facilities, his success was not as great. He finished a distant 4th to Cunningham's meet record in the Boston Knights of Columbus Games, then finished 3rd to Cunningham and Wenzke in the Millrose Games' Wanamaker Mile. San Romani had planned to enter the Baxter Mile at the New York Athletic Club Games, but bad weather forced cancellation of the trip.

The next stop on the indoor circuit for San Romani was the National AAU meet in New York, where he scored a thrilling victory in the 1500-meter, bursting past Luigi Beccali (the bronze medalist at 1500 meters in the 1936 Olympic Games) in the last five yards to win in 3:51.2. Cunningham had withdrawn from the race. San Romani and Cunningham met again a few weeks later at the Chicago Indoor Relays, and San Romani defeated the world record holder. Ken DeMott joined San Romani at Chicago, but did not place due to a pulled muscle that kept him out for most of the season.

San Romani joined the Hornet squad after the Chicago meet to participate in the regular season schedule. Graduation losses had been heavy, with Rhoads, Bridges, Crooms, Mack, Locke, Austin and Dryer gone from the 1936 team. Nevertheless, the 1937 squad remained one of the best small college teams in the Midwest on the strength of several outstanding performers. Though strong in the big relay meets, the Hornets did not have the depth necessary to challenge Pittsburg for conference honors.

Archie San Romani: Olympian

Archie San Romani became the first athlete to officially represent KSTC at the Olympic Games by qualifying for the U.S. Olympic team in the 1500 meters. At the Olympic Trials, San Romani and Glenn Cunningham were both timed in 3:49.9 with Cunningham given the victory.

At the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin, Germany, San Romani finished 4th behind Jack Lovelock of New Zealand, Glenn Cunningham, and Luigi Beccali of Italy, the 1932 Olympic 1500-meter champion. Lovelock set a new Olympic and world record of 3:47.8, while San Romani's time of 3:50.0 was under the old Olympic record by 1.2 seconds.

To open the season, KSTC athletes attended the 1st Annual Mid-West Intercollegiate Indoor meet in Naperville, Illinois. The Hornets finished 3rd behind North Central College and Pittsburg. Sam Romani won the mile, setting a field house record of 4:27. Sumner set another fieldhouse record in winning the 60-yard high hurdles. Frame earned the Hornets' final victory, winning the two-mile and also finishing 2nd to San Romani in the mile. Archie Shepard finished right behind his teammate to take 2nd in the high hurdles. This meet underscored the Hornets' strength in the distances and hurdles.

San Romani made one more venture into the indoor invitational meets during 1937, competing in the New York Knights of Columbus Games. He finished just two-tenths of a second behind Glenn Cunningham in the mile run at 4:08.9. Cunningham's time of 4:08.7 was just off his world indoor record for the mile of 4:08.4. These two men were developing quite a rivalry, and they met again at the Butler Indoor Relays. San Romani won this round, defeating Cunningham by two yards with the time of 4:21. The Hornet distance medley also came up with the victory, taking the college class event with the team of James McAlpine, Zimmerman, Bill Skinner, and Frame running a time of 10:53.4.

A new twist had been added to the KSTC-Pittsburg rivalry in 1936. The Hornets and Gorillas met in a dual relay meet, where all running events were contested as relays. Welch and Weede staged the event to give hometown fans a chance to see the outstanding relay teams that had dominated the college relay circuit since 1933. In the 27 relay races entered by either team since that year, only twice had one or the other failed to win, and even then they took 2nd and 3rd. Of the 25 remaining contests, the two squads finished 1st and 2nd in 20 of them.

In the first year of the event, KSTC and Pitt had split the events. KSTC won the distance relays and weight events, while Pitt won the sprint relays and jumps. In 1937, the field events were contested as relays as well, and KSTC again won the weights while Pitt took the jumps. However, the Hornets were able to win only two of the seven running relays, the two-mile and distance medley. The Gorillas used their great depth to an advantage in winning the meet.

After the dual relay, the Hornets moved on to the Kansas Relays, where the thinclads turned in some outstanding individual performances. San Romani ran the feature mile race, outkicking hometown favorite Cunningham to win in 4:14.1. Sumner, who was fast becoming one of the best hurdlers in the nation, won the high hurdles in 15.0 seconds. Lawrence Hague broke John Kuck's 11-year-old meet record in the javelin with a toss of 208-10 ½. Unfortunately, he finished 2nd to Terry of Hardin-Simmons College, Abilene, Texas, who set an intercollegiate record of 229-2 ½. The Hornet distance medley team won in the college division for the third consecutive year, taking permanent possession of the Jenny Wren Challenge Trophy. McAlpine, Zimmerman, Frame, and San Romani ran on that team. The two-mile team of Romine, Zimmerman, Skinner, and Frame finished 2nd to Pittsburg.

At the Drake Relays, Sam Romani was again entered in a feature race. This was a 1 ½ mile race against the famous Rideout twins of North Texas State College. San Romani won by over 200 yards with the time of 6:46.9, only four seconds off Paavo Nurmi's 12-year-old world record for the distance. Frame finished 3rd in the open two-mile, and Hague placed 4th in the javelin. Summer was disappointed, as he tripped over a hurdle in the highs and did not place. The only Hornet relay team to place was the two-mile, the foursome of Skinner, Romine, Zimmerman, and Frame taking 3rd behind Pitt and Butler.

KSTC placed 2nd behind Pitt at the CIC meet for the sixth consecutive year. The Hornet stars shown bright, as four men accounted for six 1sts and five new CIC records. But again, KSTC did not have the depth to challenge for the team championship. San Romani won the mile and two-mile, setting records of 4:13.5 and 9:23.8, respectively. Sumner was also a double winner, setting a CIC record of 14.8 seconds in the high hurdles and winning the lows. Hague took the javelin with the record throw of 196-3 ½. Anthony Lohkamp was the Hornets' final winner, the giant sophomore heaving the shot 48-6 $\frac{7}{8}$ to break Dryer's 1936 record.

San Romani's performances in his next two appearances firmly established him as the top miler in the world for the year. At the Missouri Valley AAU, he won the 1500-meter with the time of 3:50.3, a new meet record and the best time in the nation during 1937. Two weeks later, in the Princeton mile, San Romani won with the time of 4:07.2, the second fastest mile ever run in the world, and just one-half second off Cunningham's world mark.

San Romani was unable to defend his title in the NCAA meet because of the three-year eligibility rule, so his last performance as a Hornet was in the National AAU meet. San Romani was leading the pack in the 1500-meter with 200 meters to go when Cunningham stepped on his heel and San Romani fell. He got back up and managed to finish 4th in the race. San Romani ended his career as one of Emporia State University's all-time greats.

Archie San Romani: Post ESU Career

Archie San Romani was one of the charter inductees into the Emporia State University Athletic Hall of Honor. San Romani is also in the NAIA, Drake Relays, and Kansas Sports Halls of fame. He continued his successful running after graduation from KSTC. In August of 1937, San Romani again went to the Scandinavian countries, and while touring there, set a new world record of 5:16.7 in the 2000-meter run. In 1938, he set a new American indoor record of 8:27.4 for the 3000-meter run, just one second shy of Paavo Nurmi's world record. San Romani continued running up through 1940 in hopes of making the U.S. Olympic team again. However, World War II caused cancellation of the Games that year and crushed those hopes.

Two Hornets did enter the 1937 NCAA meet at Berkeley, California. Sumner, with record setting performances in the low and high hurdles at the Missouri Valley meet, had earned the ranking as one of the top six hurdlers in the nation, and went to the meet with expenses paid by the NCAA. Lohkamp was entered in the shot put for KSTC. Sumner lived up to the ranking, placing 3rd in the low hurdles and 4th in the highs. He was placed on the National Collegiate Honor Roll for his performances. Lohkamp was unable to place in his event.
